General Information
& Referral,
Community Outreach

An Area Agency on Aging and Independent Living (AAA&IL) is a public or non-profit agency designated by the state to address the needs and concerns of all older adults at the local level. An “AAA” is a generic term.

AAA’s were established under the Older Americans Act (OAA) in 1973 to respond to the needs of Americans aged 60 and over in every local community. The services available through AAA’s fall into five broad categories:

• Information and access services,
• Community-based services,
• In-home services,
• Housing, and
• Elder rights.

Within each category a range of programs is available.

Living Trusts vs. Wills

The Federal Government allows a couple to pass all or a portion of their estate to heirs tax free. These amounts change, so check with your financial advisor for current amounts. This can be accomplished with either a professionally prepared will or a living trust – depending on the circumstances.

Living trusts can be an effective estate planning tool but they are not needed by everyone. Funding a trust means transferring assets such as your home, car or bank accounts into the legal entity (trust) from your own name. Assets then are owned by the trust – not yourself. You or someone you designate then administers the trust as the trustee. If you name yourself as trustee, you still retain total control of those assets in the trust.

Unlike a will, the use of which alone still requires probate at death, a living trust is executed during a person’s lifetime. You can administer your own trust, and upon your death or incapacitation, a named successor trustee will assume management. This prevents probate and/or the need to apply for guardianship or conservatorship. There are both changeable and non-changeable (revocable and non-revocable) trusts, each of which have differing effects on taxes and government benefits.

Any tax deferred accounts, such as an IRA or 401(k), should not be placed in trust. The IRS considers this a taxable distribution and will charge you taxes and a 10% penalty.

Considerations:

Living Trust
- Can distribute my estate according to my wishes.
- A living trust allows for effective tax planning strategies with the maximum level of control.
- Avoid probate and/or attorney fees associated with probate.
- Probate is expensive and slow. Files are open to the public. Wills can be challenged by heirs who are legally entitled to notice of distribution.
- No cut-off for creditors to file claims.
- Avoids probate in each state in which property is owned.
- A named successor trustee assumes management upon your incapacitation without the need to petition the court to name a conservator to act for you.
- If your life insurance policy is owned by the trust, and your estate is worth more than the allowable limit, the trust will have to pay taxes on the proceeds.
- Guardianship is avoided in the event of incapacity.
- Generally simpler and less time consuming than probate.

Simple Will
- Can effectively accomplish the same with joint ownership and designation within a will.
- There are many strategies which can be used to reduce or eliminate federal and state taxes with or without a living trust.
- You can hold property in joint names or Payable at Death accounts. Assets with named beneficiaries also avoid probate.
- It depends on the complexity of your estate. Trust administration can also be expensive, slow, and complex. Very few people actually go to court to read files.
- No claims can be filed after one year.
- Your will must be validated by the probate court in each state in which you own property.
- Provides a safeguard against a dishonest heir or trustee. Probate court requires strict accounting and closely supervises estate administration.
- Life insurance proceeds are not taxable to an individual while that individual is living.
- A Durable Power of Attorney can accomplish the same thing without incurring the expense of setting up a Living Trust or having to fund it.

You need two documents to help protect your wishes or to assume responsible caregiving for a loved one—a general durable power of attorney (for financial and legal) and a State of Kentucky Living Will Directive (which combines a living will and a durable power of attorney for health care).

Some doctors and hospitals may be reluctant to follow a patient’s living will orders. It’s important to tell your doctor, executor, guardian, family and close friends that you have these documents and where they are located. Make sure all copies are signed and notarized.

Inheritance Tax
Tax applied by State of Kentucky on the right to receive property. Imposed based on family relationship to decedent.

Irrevocable Trust

Used to reduce the size of an estate, provide liquidity or protect assets from Medicaid eligibility with a 5 year look back.

Joint Tenancy

A beneficiary designation applied to a banking or investment account transferring the account to the named beneficiaries outside the probate process. Subject to estate and inheritance taxes.
Probate
Court proceeding which arranges for resolution of all legal and financial matters of the deceased. Title and asset changes are made according to the wishes in a valid will, or according to state directives in the absence of a will. Probate takes an average of six to 24 months. Expenses include attorneys fees, court costs, tax assistance, asset appraisals and sometimes bond premiums (5 – 15% of estate value). Information is public record. Proceedings are required in every state in which property is owned. (Ways to avoid probate include joint ownership of all assets such as bank accounts, IRAs, life insurance, and/or house mortgage. These all go into probate, however, upon the death of the second spouse).

Revocable Living Trust
Allows you to transfer ownership of assets to a trust which is administered by someone you appoint, including yourself and provides for successor trustees without court intervention. Often used as a planning tool. Can be changed at anytime before your death. Provides no asset protection from Medicaid requirements and is subject to estate and inheritance taxes.

Springing Power of Attorney
A clause in a legal document which deals with an “only if” course of action. (i.e. in the event that I am unable to manage my own financial and general affairs, then…)

Durable General Power of Attorney
Gives power to another to make legal or financial decisions such as check cashing, banking needs, filling out tax forms, etc. if you are unable to do so. Must state specifically that it is a durable power that remains in effect beyond your disability. The powers can be narrow or broad. You should not use a form to assign powers of attorney. Such forms are often flawed and may not be legally binding. Use an attorney or call Legal Aid of the Bluegrass, (859) 233-4556.

Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care
Gives power to another to make medical and personal decisions if you are unable to do so. Must state specifically that it is a durable power that remains in effect beyond your disability. Its provisions are broader than a Living Will which are limited to life and death medical care. They are important companion documents. A simple form can be obtained by calling (502) 564-8100, ext. 499.

Guardianship
Appointed by the court only after a jury trial has been held to determine mental competency based on medical evidence by a physician and a psychiatrist, and testimony of a social worker. The person whose competency is in question, the “Respondent” is required, if able, to appear in court. Upon adjudication of incompetency, the “Ward”, is appointed a guardian or a limited guardian and a conservator. An individual or the State may be appointed. The effect of a finding on incompetency is the removal of all or part of the ward’s adult rights. (The law refers to this a being “disabled”).

Reverse Mortgage Loans

Reverse mortgage loans enable persons age 62+ to get cash (a loan) that is not paid back until you move out of your home, no matter how long that turns out to be. This loan relies only on home equity, so advanced age, low income, and even bad credit (except debt to the Federal Government), does not prevent this loan from going through.

The most popular form of Reverse Mortgage is the Home Equity Conversion Mortgage (HECM) which is the one described here. The HECM loan is done through private lenders who compete for your business, but these loans are backed 100% by the Federal Government through the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

How Much Can I Borrow?

The chart on the following page gives examples of the amount of money available at an interest rate of 3.97%. The interest rate in the discussion here is variable monthly (a slightly higher, variable yearly rate is also offered); the lower the interest rate, the more money that will be available to the homeowner.

There are several choices for taking the money available; a line of credit, a monthly payment for life (“tenure”) for a specified period, or any combination of these methods. Notice that the older you are, the greater the amount available.
The Maximum Claim Amount is either the FHA lending limit in the County, or your home value, whichever is less.

Pros Include:
- A free educational session conducted by a trained counselor is required before you enroll with a lender.
- No monthly mortgage payments.
- A “low” interest rate applies and accumulates only on the funds borrowed so far.
- No repayment until you move; for co-owners, no repayment until you both move.
- Existing mortgages will be paid off with Reverse Mortgage Funds (as long as there are enough proceeds to do so).
- The line of credit is growing (currently at 4.47%).

Cons Include:
- High start-up costs. While these are not paid out of pocket, there is an immediate debt on the home. So this loan is costly if you move out of the home soon.
- Required repairs must be less than 15% of the home value (if repair needs are greater, other programs may help - ask your counselor).
- Any existing mortgage must be paid off, so if existing debt is too large, the Reverse Mortgage might not provide enough money to do so.

funeral Preplanning

Funeral preplanning is not a favorite topic, but is a straightforward process that is absolutely essential in total estate planning. There are over 50 decisions to be made at the time of death. Decisions need to be made about funeral director’s services, length of visitation, type and location(s) of religious services, securing the clergy, cards, card verses and writing and placement of a newspaper obituary. Choices of burial vault, casket, cemetery plot, cemetery marker, urn, embalming and restorative or cosmetic services must also be selected. Disposition of the physical body involves decisions about organ and/or body donation, burial or cremation.

The average funeral cost is $6,000. Average cemetery costs range from $1,800 to $5,000. By preplanning, you determine what your costs will be by making decisions about plot, vault, marker, interment or mausoleum space.

Both prepaid funeral and cemetery contracts should be made to ensure peace of mind and the honoring of one’s wishes. Most certainly, a burial insurance plan should be pre-purchased before a family member begins to spend down assets in a skilled nursing center.
There are several prefunding options available including an insurance policy that guarantees that all costs of the services and funeral items that you purchase will be paid for at the time of death. All policies have built-in inflation clauses to cover the costs of those items at the time of death. Check with your funeral director on what items are guaranteed and what is the best plan for you.

Living Will (See pages 29–30 for form)
A Living Will tells doctors what to do when you are too sick to communicate. It can indicate when medical treatment should stop, or whether you want passive feeding to be withdrawn. The directives are limited only to care which artificially or technologically postpones death—not comfort care. The Living Will must be signed by you, witnessed by a notary or two non-related adults, excluding your physician and nursing home advisor. At the time of determination, your attending and one additional physician must certify terminal condition or permanently unconscious state.

Of Special Note
- If you want food and water withheld if you are in a permanently unconscious state, you must specifically indicate this by both checking a box and initialing.
- Health care providers are required to inform you of your right to refuse or accept medical treatment. Always ask up front what the provider’s policy is in honoring advance directives.
- A Living Will applies only to situations of terminal illness and permanent unconsciousness—not to those who have Alzheimer’s, have had strokes, degenerative disorders or conditions that are not immediately life threatening.
- A Living Will supersedes a Designation of Health Care Surrogate with respect to life sustaining care decisions.
- An oral request to your physician, family member or health care worker revokes the signed document.

Designation of Health Care Surrogate
Everyone should have one! A Designation of Health Care Surrogate designates a person to make medical decisions for you in situations that your Living Will did not anticipate such as mental or physical incompetency.

This declaration must be signed in the presence of two witnesses or a notary public. The following persons cannot be a witness to the declaration:
- A blood relative who would be a beneficiary of the declarant;
- A beneficiary of the declarant under descent and distribution statutes of the Commonwealth;
- An employee of a health care facility in which the declarant is a patient;
- An attending physician of the declarant;
- Any person directly financially responsible for the declarant’s health care.
State of Kentucky
Living Will Directive

My wishes regarding life-prolonging treatment and artificially provided nutrition and hydration to be provided to me if I no longer have decisional capacity, have a terminal condition, or become permanently unconscious have been indicated by checking and initialing the appropriate lines below. By checking and initialing the appropriate lines, I specifically:

_____ Designate _______________________________________as my health care surrogate(s) to make any health care decisions for me in accordance with this directive when I no longer have decisional capacity. If _______________________________________refuses or is not able to act for me, I designate _______________________________________as my health care surrogate(s).

Any prior designation is revoked.

If I do not designate a surrogate, the following are my directions to my attending physician. If I have designated a surrogate, my surrogate shall comply with my wishes as indicated below:

_____ Direct that treatment be withheld or withdrawn, and that I be permitted to die naturally with only the administration of medication or the performance of any medical treatment deemed necessary to alleviate pain.

_____ DO NOT authorize that life-prolonging treatment be withheld or withdrawn.

_____ Authorize the withholding or withdrawal of artificially provided food, water, or other artificially provided nourishment or fluids.

_____ DO NOT authorize the withholding or withdrawal of artificially provided food, water, or other artificially provided nourishment or fluids.

_____ Authorize my surrogate, designated above, to withhold or withdraw artificially provided nourishment or fluids, or other treatment if the surrogate determines that withholding or withdrawing is in my best interest; but I do not mandate that withholding or withdrawing.

In the absence of my ability to give directions regarding the use of life-prolonging treatment and artificially provided nutrition and hydration, it is my intention that this directive shall be honored by my attending physician, my family, and any surrogate designated pursuant to this directive as the final expression of my legal right to refuse medical or surgical treatment and I accept the consequences of the refusal.
If I have been diagnosed as pregnant and that diagnosis is known to my attending physician, this directive shall have no force or effect during the course of my pregnancy.

I understand the full import of this directive and I am emotionally and mentally competent to make this directive.

Caregiver’s Bill of Rights

Caregivers have the right to:

- Receive sufficient training in care giving skills along with accurate, understandable information about the condition and needs of the care recipient.
- Appreciation and emotional support for their decision to accept the challenge of providing care.
- Protect their assets and financial future without severing their relationship with the care receiver.
- Respite care during emergencies and in order to care for their own health, spirit, and relationships.
- Expect all family members, both men and women, to participate in the care for aging relatives.
- Provide care at home as long as physically, financially and emotionally feasible; however, when it is no longer feasible caregivers have the obligation to explore other alternatives, such as a residential care facility.
- Temporarily alter their premises as necessary to provide safe and livable housing for care receivers.
- Accessible and culturally appropriate services to aid in caring for aging care receivers.
- Expect professionals, within their area of specialization, to recognize the importance of palliative (ease without curing) care and to be knowledgeable about concerns and options related to older people and caregivers.
- A sensitive, supportive response by employers in dealing with the unexpected or severe care needs.

BEREAVEMENT/WIDOW SUPPORT
Here are some thoughts to help you cope with the death of a loved one...
• Give yourself permission to grieve and talk about your loss, your love, happy times and memories.
• Recognize that other people care but might be uncomfortable and don’t know what to say to you. Be assertive and help them remember the good times they too shared with your loved one.
• Ask for and accept help. Recognize that anger, sadness, loneliness and fear are okay feelings. Your friends and family want to help, but you must let them.
• Use this time of change to rid yourself of everything in your life that doesn’t work for you. Don’t do anything out of a sense of obligation if it does not feel good to you.
• Be very cautious about major financial and lifestyle changes, many experts advise waiting at least a year before selling your house.

Check with your local funeral director, place of worship or a hospice organization in your area for a support group that will let you share your feelings and problems with those who share your concerns.

Many older people experience multiple medical problems, frequent falls, memory and functional problems. Tips for Caregivers and Their Families
Whatever your degree of involvement as a caregiver, it is important to prepare for the future by taking the following steps:

Plan for future needs.
Educate yourself about the disease or disability and about care giving.
Support is critical to your well-being. Seek it, arrange it and plan it.

Plan for future needs by getting affairs in order. Legal and financial planning is a way of relieving future stress. As a caregiver, you may need to assume responsibility for overseeing business or legal affairs and making health care decisions for your loved one. An attorney can advise you about Powers of Attorney, living wills and other documents.

Educate yourself about your loved one’s illness(s), disease, or condition. Learn about treatment options, disease progression and care needs. Knowledge will help you know what to expect in the future and how to manage today.

Build a strong support system for yourself and use it regularly. Isolation is a direct consequence of long term caregiving. As the demands of caring for your loved one increase and social and leisure time become limited, caregivers risk losing support for themselves. It is essential to have someone to talk to who will listen unconditionally and offer support.
Adult Day Services & Respite Care

ADULT DAY SERVICES/RESPITE

Adult Day Services/ Social Model
Attendance can often provide a bridge for persons wishing to remain at home, but needing supervised activities, socialization and meals.

Adult Day Care/Health Model/Day Treatment
Attendance is appropriate for an older adult also needing assistance with medications, physical therapy and some personal care. Transportation is usually an additional charge.

Respite is designed to ease the burden on families who provide care for one needing extensive physical, mental and medical help. It results in reduced institutionalization of a patient and reduced stress for the family. Some assisted living and nursing homes, adult day care centers and senior centers offer short-term care outside the home. Most home health care agencies provide qualified nursing care and companionship inside the home.

Adult day programs provide adults who cannot function independently an opportunity for supervision, social interaction, and meaningful activity. Adult day programs are defined as social or medical models of care; medical models offer supervised medical care in addition to social activities and meals. Hours are generally Monday – Friday, 7:30-5:30, with some programming available on Saturday.

Some questions to keep in mind when searching for the day center that meets your needs include the following:

✔ Is there a sliding fee scale? Are there additional fees not covered in the regular program costs?

✔ Is there transportation available to and from the site? Is there an extra charge?

✔ Is there after-hours respite care available? What is the cost?

✔ How many volunteers are there?

✔ Is there individualized programming and one-on-one activities? Do the activities accommodate personal preferences? Are they adult in nature?

✔ What is the quality of meals and snacks?

✔ When appropriate, are participants encouraged to go to the bathroom? What is the toileting schedule?

✔ What are the programs’ emergency procedures?

What is the mission statement and philosophy? How is the mission statement carried out in daily programming?

Are there group activities and outings? Are the activities age appropriate?

Alzheimer’s Disease... is a form of dementia that is a progressive, degenerative and incurable disease that attacks brain cells, resulting in impaired memory, thinking and behavior. It is not a natural consequence of aging.

Dementia... is the loss of intellectual functions (such as memory deficit or confusion) which are required for daily living. Many conditions cause or mimic dementia, including depression, tumors, drug reactions, nutritional deficiencies and degenerative physiological diseases. Geriatric assessment can help determine cause and suggest treatment that can improve or reverse behavior patterns.

Part D – Prescription Drug Coverage

All people with Medicare are able to enroll in plans that cover prescription drugs. Plans vary based on income, but in general, this is how they work:

✅ Annual Deductible - You pay 100% of drug costs until your deductible is met ($360 in 2016 and $400 in 2017). Please note that some plans do not have annual deductibles.

✅ Initial Coverage - Coverage and cost sharing begins until you meet the Initial Coverage limit ($23,310 in 2016 - this is what you and your plan pay combined).

✅ Coverage Gap - When your total drug costs exceed $3,310, your cost-sharing is 45% of covered brand name drugs and 58% of covered generics. Previously, the coverage gap or, "donut hole" was so called because you had to pay 100% of your drug costs. The discount subsidy will gradually increase over the the next several years until the donut hole is eliminated in 2020.

✅ Catastrophic Coverage - Catastrophic coverage begins when you reach the out-of-pocket threshold ($4,850 in 2016). Beneficiaries will then pay a small amount for covered brands. Your plan will pick up the remainder during this phase.

Additional help is available for people of low income through the Social Security Extra Help program. Contact the Bluegrass SHIIP Program at 1-866-516-3051 to see if you qualify.

Your Medicare claim number is usually your Social Security number (SSN) followed by the letter A. If you are covered under a spouse's SSN, the claim number will be your spouse's SSN followed by the letter B. The letter D follows a SSN if coverage is provided through a deceased spouse.

This is misleading and beneficiaries often think they only have Part A or Part B coverage because of the letter following the Medicare number. The type of coverage is listed on your card as "Hospital (Part A)" and/or "Medical (Part B)" followed by an effective date.

Social Security is the nation’s largest financial assistance program for the elderly. The program funds the following benefits: Disability Benefits, Medicare, Retirement Benefits and Survivors Insurance.

Medicare is a federal health insurance program for people age 65+ as well as certain disabled individuals. There are three parts to Medicare.
Part A is hospital insurance, which helps pay for care in a hospital and skilled nursing facility, home health care and hospice care.
Part B is supplemental medical insurance, the outpatient arm of Medicare, which helps pay for doctors, outpatient hospital care and other medical services.
Part D is the Prescription Drug plan. Most people do not have to pay for Medicare Part A. Part B is optional with a 2016 premium of $121.80. If you do not want Part B you must decline it. If not, the premium will be automatically deducted from your monthly check. If you are not covered under an employer health insurance plan at age 65, you should enroll in Part B during a 7-month enrollment period. If you delay and are not covered by an employer health insurance plan, you will pay a 10% penalty on your premium for every year you delay enrolling in Part B.

Survivors Benefits are payable to qualified widow(er)s and dependent children of a worker who died and is insured for Social Security benefits. Survivors benefits are intended to replace, in part, income that is lost due to the worker’s death. Widow(er)s may receive survivors benefits by age 60, or age 50 if they are disabled and unable to do substantial work. Under certain conditions, divorced widow(er)s may be entitled to benefits on a divorced spouse’s record if they were married at least 10 years. Social Security pays a lump sum death benefit to a surviving spouse or dependent child(ren) of a deceased worker.

Disability Benefits are payable to workers who are unable to do substantial work because of a physical and/or mental condition that is expected to last for at least a year or to lead to the worker’s death. A worker must be insured for disability benefits; for most workers, that means they have worked 5 out of the last 10 years. Family members may also qualify for benefits on the disabled worker’s record. The average disability benefit in 2016 is $1,166/month. The average benefit for a disabled worker with a spouse and one or more children is $1,976/month.

Retirement Benefits are payable to workers who are at least 62 and have the 40 credits needed to be insured for benefits. The retired worker’s spouse, minor children and disabled children who became disabled before age 22 may also be eligible for benefits on the worker’s record. A worker may earn up to 4 credits a year, so he or she needs at least 10 years of part-time work to be insured for retirement benefits. Work credits have nothing to do with the monthly benefit amount. Benefits are calculated based on the worker’s 35 years of highest earnings indexed for inflation. If you choose to retire before full retirement age (65-67, depending on the year you were born), you will receive permanently reduced monthly benefits. The closer you are to full retirement age, the higher your benefit will be. Workers who postpone collecting benefits past full retirement age may earn delayed retirement credits up until age 70 and boost their monthly benefit amount. The average Social Security retirement benefit in January, 2016 is $1,341/month (the amount changes monthly).

SUPPLEMENTAL (SSI) INCOME
If you reach full retirement age during 2016, SS deducts $1 from your benefits for each $3 you earn above $41,880 until the month you reach full retirement age.
SSI is a federal program which makes monthly payments to disabled or aged (age 65+) individuals who have limited income and resources. To be eligible a person cannot have over $2000 in assets and a couple over $3000, excluding the home and, in most instances, one car. A Social Security representative must help determine eligibility. The SSI maximum monthly check amounts are $733 (single) and $1,100 (couple) in 2016. Benefit amounts are adjusted each year.

Part A: Hospital Insurance
Covers the first 60 days of semi-private hospital care and up to 20 days of post-hospital skilled rehabilitative care in a hospital or skilled nursing facility (nursing home). Coverage of skilled nursing home care requires three consecutive midnights of admitted hospital care. There is a difference between being in the hospital and being admitted. Benefit period begins with day one of hospitalization and ends after you have been out of a hospital or used skilled nursing care for 60 consecutive days.

Part B: Medical Insurance
Pays monthly doctor bills, outpatient care, home health care, ambulance, lab and therapies for eligible Social Security recipients who pay the monthly premium. This fee is deducted from a Social Security check. The Part B premium for $121.80 for most individuals, and is based on income.

Part B: Approved Amount
Medicare, not you or your doctor, makes the decision of an approved amount for each specific medical service. The doctor must be certified by Medicare. Medicare will only pay 80% of the approved amount which may be less than the fee you’re charged. You must pay the rest.

Part D: Prescription Drug Plan
If you are enrolled in a standard Medicare part D plan and have a higher income (at least $85,000/individual and $170,000/couple) you will pay higher part D monthly premiums. See Page 41 for a plan summary.

Assignment
Medical providers who accept Medicare payments are required to accept the Medicare approved amount for service or supplies. They may not charge you more than the deductible and 20% coinsurance. Example: You go to a doctor who accepts Medicare and you have already paid the deductible. The Medicare approved amount for the service you receive is $200. Medicare would pay 80%, or $160. You are responsible for no more than the remaining 20%, or $40. If your doctor did not accept Medicare, and the charge for the service was $225, you could be required to pay the full amount immediately. Medicare would send you a check for $160 after the doctor filed the claim. You would be required to pay $25 more in this example.

Beneficiaries are now covered for:
• Annual mammogram, no charge. Part B deductible waived.
• Annual colorectal screening.
• Annual prostate screening.
• Bone mass measurement (to rule out osteoporosis).
• Diabetes screening, monitoring, self-management education.
• Flu & pneumonia shots (no co-payment required).
• Screening pelvic exams (every 3 years); pelvic exams and pap smears for high-risk women will be covered annually.

Note: For most preventative services the Part B deductible and co-insurance will likely be waived.

SENIOR MEDICARE PATROL (SMP)

The Senior Medicare Patrol (SMP) is a group of trained volunteers who help Medicare beneficiaries prevent and report healthcare fraud. SMP volunteers teach Medicare beneficiaries how to protect personal information, find errors on healthcare statements, recognize scams (like illegal marketing and billing for services that were not provided) and report fraud and mistakes.

Protect Yourself from Medicare Fraud, Errors, and Abuse

Protecting your personal information is the best line of defense in the fight against healthcare fraud and abuse. Here’s how you can take an active role in protecting your healthcare benefits:

- Treat your Medicare card like a credit card. Never give the number to a stranger.
- Save Medicare Summary Notices and Part D Explanation of Benefits and then shred them after one year.
- Know that Medicare never calls or visits to sell you something.
- Don’t carry your Medicare card unless you will need it. Only take it to doctor or hospital appointments, or trips to the pharmacy.
- Record doctor visits, tests and procedures in your personal health care journal or calendar.

Detect Medicare Fraud, Errors, and Abuse

You should receive a Medicare Summary Notice (MSN) in the mail every three months. It is not a bill— it is a list of claims billed to your Medicare account. The MSN explains charges that will be paid by Medicare, by you, or by other insurance (like Medigap or employer insurance).

- Always read your Medicare Summary Notice (MSN)
- Check your MSN for these things:
  1. Is your information correct? Check the Medicare Number, name and address.
  2. Providers with Claims This Period: Make sure you recognize the providers listed here.
  3. Assigned Claims: Check each item listed. Compare these records to your Personal Healthcare Journal. If you see items or services that you didn’t get call the healthcare provider to ask about it.
  4. Amount Charged: Amount the provider billed Medicare.
  5. Medicare Paid Provider: Amount Medicare paid to the provider.
  6. You May Be Billed: The total amount the provider may bill you.
- Compare your MSN to your records and look for these three things:
  1. Charges for services or items you didn’t receive
  2. Billing for the same thing twice
  3. Services not ordered by your doctor

Report Suspected Fraud or Ask Questions

If you suspect errors, fraud or abuse, report it immediately! You can protect other people from becoming victims too.

When to Call SMP: 1-877-603-6558 or 502-574-6960
1. You called Medicare, your healthcare or insurance providers and they didn’t answer your questions.
2. You suspect or know that someone else is using your Medicare or Social Security number.
3. You need help with identity theft or scam questions.
If you do not have insurance from a former employer that fills gaps in Medicare, there are several insurance companies that sell supplemental coverage to fill these gaps. They sell policies called medigaps that help cover medicare deductibles, coinsurance and some additional benefits. There are 12 different standardized Medigap plans, labeled A–L (except in Mass., Minn. and Wisc.). Not all plans are available in all areas.

Note: Starting June 1, 2010, the types of Medigap Plans that you can buy changed. There are two new Medigap Plans – “M” and “N.” Plans “E,” “H,” “I,” and “J” will no longer be available to buy. If you already have Plan E, H, I, or J, you can keep that plan. Contact your plan for more information.

Each Medigap plan pays for a particular set of benefits. Plan A offers the fewest benefits and is usually the least expensive. Plans that offer more benefits, like plan J, are generally more expensive.

3. You must meet the income and resource limitations required by the program.

For more information, visit chfs.ky.gov/dms/mws.htm or contact the Division of Community Alternatives, Kentucky Cabinet for Health and Family Services, at (502) 564-5560, or the Bluegrass Aging & Disability Resource Center, at 1-866-665-7921.

MEDICAL CLAIMS ASSISTANCE

Hospitals will process claim forms for you through their senior membership programs if you have bills connected with their hospital or physicians. Many home health care agencies also process claim forms for services they provide. Call your local senior center for personal counseling.

Bluegrass State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP)

1-866-516-3051

Legal Aid of the Bluegrass, 300 East Main St., Ste. 110, Lexington 40507

Counseling program for adults age 60+. Determines if they qualify for private or government benefits. Helps with health insurance forms and claims.

MEDICAID SPEND-DOWN

Medicaid Spend Down offers help to those persons on Medicare but have income too high to receive Medicaid but have incurred medical expenses that are higher than their total income. The SHIP Program and/or the Department for Community Based Services office can assist you with applying for this benefit. You must apply within 90 days of incurring the medical expense and you do not need to receive your medical bills before you apply.

Most people begin paying for nursing home care from savings and assets, which can be quickly spent. Once a person has become basically impoverished, Medicaid eligibility requirements, the Medicaid federal/state government-funded insurance program pays for care. Anyone with assets exceeding $150,000 to protect, in addition to a house, should research long term care insurance.

How long has the company been in the long term care business? A good company should have been in business at least a couple of years. Don’t be taken in by low premiums to attract customers.

Research the company’s financial strength. A.M. Best is an industry-respected independent rating firm. A+ Superior or A Excellent is okay. Stay away from any rating below A. If you can’t get Best’s report at the library, ask your agent.

Watch out for quick 2–3 day turnarounds for policy approval. Expect a 4 week turnaround for approval.

Make sure the company performs medical underwriting at the time of application rather than claim time.

How has the company treated current policyholders when they update? Have enhancements been written on a guaranteed basis, for additional cost or has medical requalification been required?

What is the company’s claim paying record? Know the percentage of claims paid by the company. If new, excessive claims may raise rates in future years.

MEDIGAP INSURANCE CONSIDERATIONS

- Can the company cancel or refuse to renew the policy?
- What are the policy exclusion limits for covered services?
- If the annual premium is low, does the cost raise with age?
- Will I have to wait before benefits will be paid?
- Will I have to wait before existing health problems are covered?

POLICY CHECKLIST

- Is the policy tax qualified? If a policy is, the benefit is generally not considered as income to the owner. You may get a tax break and better protection.
- Make sure the policy has a guaranteed renewable clause so you cannot be canceled or singled out for rate increases.
- Be sure to understand whether you are buying a reimbursement or an indemnification policy. Reimbursement policies will pay covered claims received by the insurer. Indemnification policies pay a stated amount each month regardless of claims received, but they are usually more expensive.
- Check to assure that the waiver of premium applies to both nursing home and home health care. This continues to cover you at no further cost while collecting benefits.
- Check for inflation protection—this rider offers either simple increase or one that is compounded, usually three to six percent of the daily benefit annually. This type of inflation rider has level premiums which is important because costs increase with age. Make sure you know if the rider renews automatically each year or if you have to request renewal yourself.
- Look for policies that cover home health care fully. Most long term nursing care is provided inside the home.
- What are the Activities of Daily Living (ADLs) that the company uses? How are they defined and how many must be lost to trigger benefits?
A good policy does not require you to be hospitalized before benefits are payable. The need for nursing home care and/or home health care may differ from the reason for hospitalization.

All levels of nursing care should be covered: skilled, intermediate and custodial. How are they defined?

Policy should specify Alzheimer’s Disease and frailty and cover organic, mental and nervous disorders that cause cognitive impairment which may prevent you from dressing, bathing and toileting without help.

What is the length of the benefit period? Does the policy allow you to use your nursing home benefits in the home when home health care benefits are exhausted and vice versa?

What is the deductible or waiting period? This can range from 0 to 365 days. It should be one that fits your budget since most people begin paying for nursing home care from savings and assets.

Interval Period
Some policies incorporate a 30 - 180 day waiting period before being readmitted, ask your agent or the company if and how an interval period applies to your policy.

Medicare Certified
Long term care policies require that care be Medicare certified to qualify for benefits. This means a doctor's order for care must be issued.

Skilled Nursing Care
Daily nursing and rehabilitative care that can be performed only by, or under the supervision of, skilled medical personnel such as RNs, LPNs and therapists.

CAREGIVER TIP

Homemaker services are available for individuals who are unable to perform their own housekeeping, grocery shopping, or other errands.

Personal care services may include bathing, toileting, help in walking or getting out of a bed or chair, grooming and feeding.

CAREGIVER TIP

Many older adults, including those with dementia, simply need basic grooming, bathing, feeding, home maintenance and chore, or comfort care services. These do not qualify as skilled nursing care and, therefore, are not covered by Medicare. This is when your family should consider Care at Home services.
Hospital Health Care Systems

Hospitals now provide a wide range of services including emergency assistance, health screening and monitoring programs, rehabilitation, home health care and aides, physician referral and family and pastoral counseling. Neighborhood locations, mobile units, specific disease assessment and treatment centers, as well as hospital ownership of nursing agencies and continuing care living facilities warrants the more accurate description of “health care system.”

It is the nature of hospitals to specialize in providing care and technology for severe illness and disease. Many tertiary care hospitals have satellite centers and/or physician centers to offer our community greater access to non-acute health care services. Additionally, many hospitals are expanding their menu of services to include home health and in-home hospice care,

Home Health Care

Home Health Care Coordination
Home health care agencies offer a range of services that allow you to remain safely at home with some assistance in daily living, whether it's medical, cooking, personal hygiene, transportation, companionship, or rehabilitation and support to aid the healing process after illness, surgery or injury. If you need several services, a medical social worker will visit you in your home to determine what services you need and will help you arrange for them.

Selecting an Agency
Selection of an agency is a personal decision that should be made based upon your needs. Senior centers, hospital discharge planners or social service workers, physicians, public health departments, United Way agencies, religious and senior citizens groups can all serve as advisors in the selection of an agency. Medicare does not pay for personal care services such as bathing, feeding, grooming, transferring from a bed to chair or toileting. Personal care services are usually paid for by the family.

RANGE OF SERVICES
Agencies may provide free assessments to determine a cost effective plan of care. Per visit or hourly rates vary by agency, skill level, intensity of care, length and timing of services.

Medicare Coverage Guidelines
Qualifying for home health benefits under Medicare is never guaranteed. Minimally, the patient must be:
• Homebound
• Under the care of an M.D. who requests skilled care
• Need skilled nursing or physical therapy services on an intermittent basis. (Patients who require more than intermittent care, but refuse alternatives, are not eligible.)

Examples of skilled nursing services covered by Medicare:
• Wound dressing involving prescription drug and aseptic technique
• Bladder and bowel training in the case of incontinence
• Colostomy or ileostomy care
• Injections
• Respiratory, physical, speech or occupational therapies

Medicare does not cover any private duty nursing costs. A patient may be very frail and require many support services such as enemas, incontinence care, bathing, personal grooming, transfer from bed to chair, ambulatory assistance, prompting for performance of basic activities of daily living (ADL), meal preparation and feeding, dressing, homemaking, chore and companion services. Medicare will not pay for these if the guidelines listed above are not met.

QUESTIONS TO ASK

- Does the agency have 24 hour/day, 7 days/week service in case of emergencies?
- How is the agency accredited and is it Medicare licensed and/or Medicaid certified?
- How long has it been in business? Is it affiliated with any hospital, community or social service agency?
- Will a representative consult with our physician and family members to develop a written care plan outlining specific duties caregivers are to perform, at what intervals and for how long? Will all necessary agency personnel know what our needs are?
- Does the agency screen and bond all workers and guarantee that they are protected with written personnel policies and basic benefits such as social security, liability, malpractice insurance and worker’s comp?
- How often will we be billed and who will we pay? Is third party reimbursement available? Will the agency file Medicare, Medicaid, HMO and private insurance?
- What services do we need? What will they cost, per visit or per hour, including overtime or holiday charges? How are charges calculated? Is there a minimum number of hours or days per week? What happens when our insurance and/or Medicare runs out?
- Will the same person be dependable and available through all care? Is there a supervisor who oversees all care and will help address any questions or problems?

TAKE NOTE
A physician must provide written approval for home health care to qualify for Medicare, Medicaid and private insurance reimbursement.

Hospice Care

Hospice is a special kind of humane and compassionate care designed to provide comfort, sensitivity and support for people in the final phase of a terminal illness. Hospice care can be provided in a variety of settings: in-home, in hospitals or in nursing homes. Hospice is covered by Medicare, Medicaid and most private insurance plans.

Components of Hospice Care

- Offers pain-comforting, not curative treatment
- Treats the person, not the disease
- Emphasizes quality, rather than length of life
- Considers the entire family, not just the patient
- Provides help and support to patient and family on a 24 hour basis

Hospice services are provided by a team of trained professionals including physicians, nurses, counselors, clergy, therapists, aides and volunteers.

QUESTIONS TO ASK

- What's the response to your very first call?
- What will the actual out-of-pocket costs be?
- Will the same team stay with the patient throughout the entire length of care?
- What services and how many hours of services are provided if the patient needs 24-hour care?
- Is long term bereavement family support is available?
- If hospital care is needed, does the patient have choice of hospital and physician?
- How long has the hospice service been in business in the area and is it affiliated with any hospital, community or social service agency?
- How long will it take to begin hospice service?
Will someone be with the family at the time of death?

What relationship does your doctor have with the hospice provider?

Will in-patient care be provided in a designated hospice unit?

What happens if the patient no longer needs in-hospital care but cannot go home?

What nursing homes are the hospice provider contracted with?

How often will a home health aide visit if the patient has intensive physical care needs?

What is the average caseload carried by each nurse?

Are there any special services or therapies offered which meet the patient’s specific needs and wishes?

What happens if Medicare or private insurance coverage ends?

How often does someone visit?

Will the hospice service file insurance claims? How will out-of-pocket expenses be handled?

Who can be called after normal business hours and how fast do they respond?

INCONTINENCE

Incontinence is...
• The loss of bladder or bowel control;
• A medical condition, not a disease;
• Not a “normal” part of growing old or the aging process;
• A common condition that affects approximately 25 million Americans;
• Treatable – a variety of options are available.

It is essential to contact a health professional to determine the specific cause of incontinence. There are many specialists available to assist in an assessment of bladder control conditions and to provide further information on treatment options. Organizations which can assist you with information on treatment, products and services available include:

Make Sure You Are Treated Properly by Your Doctor.

It is important that you have a doctor who you trust and who pays attention to your needs. You may want to consider switching doctors if the following occur:

• Your doctor always seems rushed.
• Doesn’t examine you thoroughly.
• Doesn’t remind you about important screening tests, such as mammograms and DRE’s.
• Doesn’t answer your questions satisfactorily or in terms you can understand.
• Doesn’t take notes on your condition.
• Doesn’t listen to your concerns.
• Files health-insurance claims that your insurance company often rejects – perhaps because of sloppy record-keeping.
• Often misplaces your test result or chart.
• Bill your insurance company for tests or procedures you did not receive.

Phone tips for seniors:
- Start a buddy system. You and a friend or relative can set a special time when you call each other every day. It’s an easy way to keep track of each other.
- People who live alone, especially women, can list only first and middle initials in the telephone directory to avoid calls from people making harassing calls.
- Use answering machines to keep potential burglars guessing about who’s home and who’s not. Women living alone may ask a male friend or relative to make the recording using your telephone number only.

Stop telephone scams by keeping these tips in mind:
- Hang up if a telemarketer calls before 8 A.M. or after 9 P.M.
- If you suspect a scam, call the State Attorney General. If you have been the victim of a scam, call the National Fraud Information Center at:
  232-6330 or 1-800-876-7060.
- Resist high pressure sales. True businesses will respect the word “no.”
- If you tell the seller not to call back and he does, hang up. That’s against the law!
- Be sure to get written information before you commit to anything.

When you’re out:
- Make sure someone knows where you’re going and when you expect to return.
- Carry change for emergency telephone and transportation use.
- Carry a shriek alarm.
- When using a bus or other public transportation, sit as near the driver as possible.

The Federal government keeps a database of the over 17,000 nursing homes in the United States. Information is available on 10 quality indicators, examining such things as the prevalence of physical restraints at a facility and the percentage of residents who have bed sores. Also available is information found during annual inspections, such as deficiencies and complaint investigation.

The information can be accessed by calling 1-800-MEDICARE, or by visiting the government’s web site, www.medicare.gov.
Housing Options
There are many housing and living choices. Many apartment units have been built especially for older persons. Some apartment houses may be the site of a senior center or a congregate meal program. Others have transportation and outreach programs with a nearby senior center.

There are four main categories of Senior Housing available: Independent Living, Assisted Living, Personal Care and Long Term Care Facilities. Each offers different levels of care and support to residents. Within these main categories there are several services available for specific needs such as Memory Care Units in Personal Care Facilities or Long Term Care Facilities for those with memory disorders. Some communities offer several of these categories, creating a continuum of care service.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR WHEN CHOOSING ANY TYPE OF SENIOR HOUSING

Upon arrival, your first impression should be one that makes you feel comfortable and secure.

Ask yourself the following questions:

- Is the community clean and well maintained, inside and out?
- Is the community spacious and comfortable?
- Are residents participating and enjoying themselves alone and in group settings?
- Is the staff friendly, pleasant, and well groomed?
- What is the staff-to-resident ratio, including nights and weekends?
- Is the staff licensed or certified? If not certified or licensed, what kind of training does staff receive?
- Does the community sponsor religious activities or provide transportation to places for worship?
- Are there social activities available that you enjoy?
- What type(s) of transportation are available, and how often may they be used? How is transportation scheduled? Is there a limit to the distance the transportation serves? What, if any, are the transportation fees?

• Are housekeeping services available, and what do they include? What is included in the monthly service fee? Do you have a listing of additional charges?

• May you meet the facility manager and other pertinent staff members, or visit on a weekend and share meal with another resident prior to your decision?

• How are the meals served? Is there assigned seating, or are you free to choose where you would like to sit? What special diets are offered? Is there a dietitian on staff? How often are menus changed and how are they planned? What types of meal plans are offered?

• Are there guest facilities available for visiting friends or relatives?

• Does staff address the residents by their proper names?

Always visit more than one place! They all have different atmospheres and cultures; you want to be comfortable. Spend some time looking around. Try to observe at different times of day to see how social activities, care and meals are handled.

CHOOSING AN INDEPENDENT LIVING COMMUNITY

If you are physically and socially independent and choose to live in a community with others, independent living communities might be right for you. Many of the independent senior communities offer different levels of assistance and services, such as meals, transportation, social and recreational activities, security, housekeeping and maintenance. Some even offer additional levels of care (assisted living and skilled nursing care) in the community.

CHOOSING AN ASSISTED LIVING OR PERSONAL CARE FACILITY

Ask yourself the following questions:

• Is the cost of the facility covered by your long-term care insurance?

• Are there handrails on the walls to help residents walk safely?

• What assistance with activities of daily living (bathing, dressing, grooming, transferring, toileting, eating) is given? How often?

• What assistance with instrumental activities of daily living (housekeeping, shopping, laundry, chores, and transportation) is given? How often?

• Is the Assisted Living Community certified by the Kentucky Department for Aging and Independent Living?

• Is the Personal Care Community licensed by the Office of Inspector General?

• Is the outside of the facility clean and in good repair?

• Is there an odor when you enter the facility?

• Are the rooms clean and in good repair?

• Are there grab rails in the bathrooms?

• Are there places outdoors for residents to sit?

• Can residents in wheelchairs get around easily?

• Is there enough light for residents to see and feel comfortable?

• Do the residents appear to enjoy being with the staff and vice versa?

• Are most of the residents dressed for the season and the time of day?

• Is the food appealing?

• Does the staff know the residents by name and address them properly?

• Does the staff respond quickly to call lights?

• Is there a variety of activities going on while you are there?

• Are residents included in the meal planning?

• Is there a resident’s council?

• Does the family participate in care planning?

• What is the cost of all services? Services such as laundry, salon, or transportation may be added onto the daily fee.

• What is the payment structure for care and services?

SENIOR HOUSING TERMS

Assisted Living
These state certified facilities offer basic assistance with activities of daily living and organized social and recreational activities. Persons who wish to live as independently as possible can receive help with bathing, grooming, meal service and reminders for taking medications. Fees for care vary and may be supplemented by long-term care insurance.

Continuing Care Retirement Communities
Offer a continuum of services: independent living cottages or apartments, assisted living, personal care and a skilled nursing facility on-site or nearby. Some charge an entrance fee/membership fee (or an endowment) that can vary by life expectancy.

Independent Living
This is a broad term encompassing many types of housing options including independent living within a congregate housing setting. Independent Living means that a person is able to maintain his or her own living area and attend to personal care needs.

Long Term Care
Twenty-four hour medical care is provided for those who need skilled or intermediate nursing care. Cost of care may be covered by Private Pay, Long-Term Care Insurance or Medicaid.

Memory Care
Specialized care and programming for those with Alzheimer’s disease or other memory care disorders.

Personal Care
These state licensed facilities provide care for the person who needs assistance with personal hygiene and other activities of daily living. They also have organized social and recreational activities. Medicines can be dispensed by staff, which is prohibited in assisted living facilities.

Rent-Subsidized Housing
These independent living subsidized apartment complexes are generally for those 62 and older who are able to live on their own, even if handicapped or disabled. Each facility has its own eligibility requirements, and many have waiting lists.

Respite
Temporary medical or non-medical services designed to offer relief to those who are caring for family members who might otherwise require permanent placement in a facility outside the home.

Subsidized Housing
These housing facilities are built and/or operated with public or private subsidies. In general, rent is based on income, usually no more than 30% of income.

Transient Crimes and Elder Fraud

What You Need to Know

Most crimes committed against older adults are “transient crimes”, many involving home repairs or diversions where a person requests to come into the home to use the bathroom, ask for a drink of water, or to “check out” an unreported problem.

Older adults are especially vulnerable to be victims of transient crimes because:

- They live alone and are eager to socialize.
- They know that they can’t make needed repairs and fear losing independence, thinking that family members will believe that they are unable to maintain their own home.
- They are eager to please and be helpful.
- They have money at home and in the bank.
- They may have declining eyesight, hearing or memory which hinders understanding and identification for prosecution.
- They may be more susceptible to intimidation and influence.

---

BE AWARE

- No matter how good it sounds, you really can’t get something for nothing or get a “deal” that’s too good to pass up.
- Do not allow ANY stranger into your home. No exceptions. Bathrooms and water are usually just a few short blocks away – a stranger does not need yours.
- All gas, water, electric and cable workers have ID badges and would never ask to “check your system” to gain entry, offer to “correct” a problem or a cash refund.
- Do not sign any contract or use any service offered by a person that approaches you cold by phone or especially “door to door.”
- Get all work contracts in writing with firm quotes and detailed description of the work to be performed, wait at least three days until the work begins and if you have any questions at all, talk it over with someone you trust.

---

The most common transient crimes are driveway sealing (small amount leftover from another job), roof sealing, brick or mortar repair, shingle replacement, painting, landscaping, power washing and exterminating. The most common forms of fraud are use of bogus or diluted material, excess empty containers presented to exaggerate the amount of material used, the finding of non-existent “damage”, failure to perform work and extortion for higher payment after the job is completed.

Don’t be afraid to call if you suspect elder fraud. The police want to help catch those who prey on the elderly.

Skilled Nursing Facilities/Nursing Homes

Nursing facilities are not necessarily the “last step” for patients...If someone requires constant supervision or there is no one to provide care at home, nursing facilities can provide rehabilitation care, long term care, or maybe temporary respite care. There are assisted living facility alternatives to nursing facility care. There are also home- and community-based alternatives, such as Medicaid waiver programs. A person does not necessarily need to move into a nursing facility simply because he or she is having health problems or can’t manage to live independently at home. Options depend upon the duration and type of services required as well as the level of care that one can afford.

The majority of nursing facilities are owned and operated by for-profit corporations. Some facilities are operated by a governmental unit, such as the county or state; a philanthropic or non-profit organization, such as a church or religious organization; or by families. Philanthropic nursing facilities are not necessarily less expensive than for-profit nursing facilities. Many facilities have waiting lists.

Family members may feel frustrated or guilty about not being able to personally care for a parent or other close older adult. Nursing facility social workers, other health care professionals, religious leaders, and the Long Term Care Ombudsman can provide helpful perspectives.

If Nursing Home Placement is the Appropriate Option...To make the transition most effectively, a prospective resident, the family, and physician must be involved in the decision-making process.

- Encourage as much independent decision-making as possible by the prospective resident.
- Move as many personal effects as possible into the room to foster familiarity and comfort.
- Assure the person that a family member is always reachable by phone.

Independent agency looking after the interests of long term care residents, with advocates assigned to each nursing home in the 17-county area. Office has information available at no cost, covering a wide range of subjects—from evaluating a nursing facility to getting good care once you are admitted. Call for placement counseling or information on any topic related to care in nursing, personal care, and family care homes.

FINANCIAL AND LEGAL PRE-PLANNING

There are many complex financial and legal decisions to be made for nursing home placement, and pre-planning is critical. Annual nursing home costs average $70,000. Families usually begin paying for nursing home care from savings. Medicare coverage of nursing home care is extremely limited. Most people deplete their savings and rely on government-funded Medicaid to supplement their monthly income and help cover the costs.

Requirements for Medicaid Coverage

- A resident’s total gross monthly income from any and all sources must be less than the monthly Medicaid reimbursement amount to the nursing home.
- A resident’s countable assets cannot exceed $2,000.
- A spouse living in the community may keep the couple’s home; 50% of joint resources (but no less than $22,728 and no more than $113,640); and up to a minimum of $1,892 or a maximum of $2,841 of the couple’s combined monthly income.

Some nursing homes do not provide care for residents who rely on Medicaid. Many that do, have limitations on the number of Medicaid beds they provide and, therefore, have waiting lists.

QUESTIONS TO ASK

☑ What personal items may be retained to provide a satisfactory level of familiarity and comfort?
☑ Are Medicaid beds available? If not, how long is the waiting period?
☑ Are location and visiting times convenient for family and friends?
☑ Does the facility provide the skilled services you need?
☑ How are the costs calculated, including single vs. double occupancy, laundry, therapy, activities, special diets, medical supplies, telephone and television?
☑ Can roommates be changed easily if requested?
☑ Is the facility Medicare/Medicaid certified?
☑ Does the facility have planned group activities such as bingo, pet therapy, outside trips, celebrations, etc.?
☑ What happens if your money runs out and you rely on Medicaid for payment?
☑ What is your first impression about the odor, cleanliness, decor and atmosphere?
Do residents appear to enjoy the staff and do staff members know the residents by name?

Is staff responsive to your and your loved one's requests?

Are residents mostly well groomed and out of bed?

Is the philosophical or religious orientation of the facility compatible with yours?

What is the number of staff compared to the number of patients?
