Harm Reduction Program

In March 2015, the Kentucky General Assembly enacted legislation (SB 192) giving municipalities the authority to operate a substance abuse treatment outreach program that includes a needles and syringes exchange component, through the local health department.

Soon after, both the Board of Health and Urban County Council voted to exercise this local option, by unanimously passing resolutions to establish the needle exchange program for Lexington. The program began on September 4, 2015 at the Health Department’s headquarters (650 Newtown Pike). And 5 years later, this initiative has now developed into a comprehensive Harm Reduction Program, which includes needle exchange, opioid overdose prevention resources, and on-site counseling for residents seeking recovery and treatment options. The Harm Reduction Program regularly serves residents 3 days per week:

- Monday 1 – 4 pm
- Wednesday 3 – 6:30 pm
- Friday 11 am – 4 pm

OVERDOSE AWARENESS DAY

The City of Lexington is asking those who have been impacted by overdose to hang a silver ribbon or bow on their door or another prominently visible location to honor the loved ones and friends we've lost to overdose. This silver ribbon campaign is to show those who are grieving that they are not alone; to show as a community, we support them.

In addition to impacting how we have traditionally come together on Overdose Awareness Day, the COVID-19 pandemic has had devastating consequences related to substance use disorder. After experiencing a decline in overdose fatalities in 2018 and again in 2019, we have experienced a significant increase so far in 2020. Although it is too early to know the exact impact of the pandemic, we do know losing connection to vital support systems can have devastating consequences for individuals with substance use disorder.

We hope that as you travel through Lexington on Monday, August 31st that you see countless silver ribbons and bows on display. As you do, please pause and hold space for the individuals who have passed away and for those who are grieving.

JOIN THE
SILVER RIBBON CAMPAIGN
AUGUST 31, 2020

Due to COVID-19, our efforts to recognize those who have lost their lives due to drug overdose will look a little different this year.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE

- Encourage friends, co-workers, clients, program participants and others to display a silver bow or ribbon on August 31.
- Provide bows in your lobby or common area.
- Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government can provide free silver bows to individuals, programs or businesses. Email Amy Baker at abaker@lexingtonky.gov with the number of bows you need.
- Share information about the Silver Ribbon Campaign and post a photo on social media using the hashtag #lexendoverdose

Social Services is proud to offer multiple services and programs from the Black & Williams Center.

Located at the corner of Booker and Georgetown Streets in Lexington's West End, the center is named in honor of Evelyn J. Black and Alex Williams, Jr.

The center was originally the Booker T. Washington School. LFUCG acquired the building in 1975.

Black & Williams Center is home to the following:

- Community & Resident Services
- Youth Services – PAGE Program
- Elder Crafters
- COACH Fellowship
- National Alliance for Mental Illness (NAMI) Lexington
- West End Community Empowerment Project (WECEP)

EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT: BRITTANY GENTRY

*Reprinted with permission from the LFUCG Public Information Office
August 12, 2020*

Welcome Brittany Gentry to her new role with the City as clinical services manager at the Audrey Grevious Center (AGC).

Before coming to the LFUCG in August of 2017, she was a behavioral health clinician at KVC Health Systems in home services for two years. She also spent three and a half years as an outpatient clinician for the Child, Adolescent and Family division of Bluegrass.org, now known as New Vista, and spent four years as a family preservation specialist with KVC.

Discussing what brought her to the City, Brittany said the following: “I had the opportunity to complete my practicum at the AGC during the 2013 – 2014 school year. Under the guidance of Tara Mills, licensed clinical social worker (LCSW), I learned so much about the Division of Youth Services, clinical social work and serving at-risk adolescents. By the end of my practicum experience, I knew I wanted to be able to be a part of the multisystem level of services that this program presents for the at-risk adolescents we serve.”

Brittany’s educational background includes a master’s degree in social work from the University of Kentucky and she is currently attending her first year in their social work doctoral program. She obtained her license in clinical social work in May of 2019 and most recently served as a senior social worker at the AGC.

In Brittany’s new position she will serve as a liaison for community partners and will lead:

- Completing initial intake assessments for incoming students;
- Developing and conducting trainings and best practice programs for AGC staff;
- Providing crisis intervention services with students (when necessary);
- Managing day-to-day programming (including special activities and events); and
- Facilitating supervision and best practice direction for the treatment team weekly.

Regarding her favorite aspect of the job, Brittany says she enjoys the initial intake assessment for incoming students: “It puts me in the position to be the first person to advertise our services and assess for the individual’s needs and area of concerns,” she said.

Originally from Columbus, Ohio, Brittany has lived in Lexington since completing her undergraduate degree from UK in 2009. She is married with two children, ages 4 and 11, and her daughter currently attends the Family Care Center, another LFUCG program she loves.

In her spare time, Brittany loves to watch movies with her family, play soccer, workout, listen to music, and travel. On Saturdays, she also serves as a mental health clinician for a local Trauma-Informed Counseling Center – something she considers a hobby.

“I truly do have a passion for serving those who need assistance with finding their own path to healing and learning relevant evidence based practices,” she said. “Practicing mental health services in my spare time is a choice!”
